Disorder Rages Through Bombay For Fourth Day

Rioters, Looters and Arsonists Continue Outburst of Protest Against Making City a State

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Rioters, looters and arsonists surged all through Bombay again today, continuing the four-day outburst of violent protest against making the city a separate state.

An official government broadcast said at least nine persons were killed by police firing into mobs today. Additionally, one policeman was stoned to death by rioters and several members of one family were attacked and killed in their car, other sources reported.

The government report raises to at least 40 the number killed in disorders this week in Bombay state.

Ambassadors Meet Again After Feud

Red China and US Envoys Report No Progress Is Made

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—U. Alexis Johnson and Wang Ping-nan special ambassadors of the United States and Red China, met for the 33rd time here today, but reported no progress in their negotiations for renunciation of the use of force in the Formosa area.

The two envoys engaged in a bitter exchange yesterday when Wang broke the secrecy of their talks after 24 weeks. He issued a statement asserting agreement by the United States and the Chinese Communists to use only peaceful means of settling disputes was blocked by U. S. insistence on putting Formosa in the American area of self-defense. Johnson retorted that Wang's 2,500-word statement distorted and perverted the facts of their negotiations.

At the end of their three-hour meeting today, the two announced only that they had agreed to meet again on Jan. 25, continuing the weekly sessions they have had since last Aug. 1.

Wang yesterday restated Peiping's claim that "the liberation by the Chinese people of their own territory of Taiwan (Formosa) is China's sovereign right and internal affair."

Auctioneer's Sale Closes Out Chapter Of Military History

SEATTLE (AP)—The auctioneer's hammer has wiped from military history an historic fort which never fired an angry shot and couldn't be saved by a letter to the president.

And with it went a throbbing Voice of America station once destined to carry democracy's word to the Orient.

Both went to private bidders.

Sold to Reuel W. Little of Madill, Okla., for $106,000 was 122-acre Ft. Worden. Its long-since-removed big guns were designed to guard the Seattle-Tacoma-Puget Sound naval shipyard area from an enemy who never came.

Actress Is Confined With Injured Foot

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Pier Angeli, who was to have started rehearsals on a movie yesterday, is confined to her home by a broken bone in her left foot. She fell on the stairs of her home Tuesday night. Her doctor said a cast will not be necessary. The foot is tightly bandaged. She is the wife of singer Vic Damone.

Nature's Detour

Sedalians may read about how much snow fell in other parts of the state and how glad every one is for the much needed moisture, but not much of it fell here. We were left in the lurch again.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 14; 26 at 1 p.m., and 28 at 2 p.m. Moisture from snow .01 inch. Low Wednesday night 10.

BULLETIN UN Council Condemns Israel for December Attack On Syria

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council today unanimously condemned Israel for its Dec. 11 attack on Syria in which 56 Syrians and 6 Israelis were killed.

The action was on a western resolution, sponsored by the United States, Britain and France, which was milder than a counter-proposal backed by Russia, but was nevertheless a clear-cut censure.

In the month-long debate which preceded the vote, all delegations in the Security Council had declared themselves in favor of condemning Israel.

Precisely, the approved resolution condemned Israel for "a flagrant violation" of the council's 1948 cease-fire resolution, of the Syrian-Israeli armistice and of Israel's obligations under the U.N. Charter.

It also warned Israel that if it failed to comply with its obligations in the future "the council will have to consider what further measures under the charter are required to maintain or restore the peace."

Registration Shows 7,500 Non-Voters

List of Non-Voters For Past 4 Years May Reach 10,000

James Green, Pettis County clerk, said Thursday there have been 7,500 names already on the permanent registration list of persons that have not voted in the past four years and now must re-register. The number of non-voters is expected to reach 10,000 Green reported.

Registration has been temporarily closed since Dec. 24, or 28 days before the next state election, which will be Tuesday, Jan. 24, when Missourians will vote on the state-wide 75-million dollar bond issue. When the election is over the registration will be reopened.

Under the new laws the county clerk has charge of the registration books and must check the registration and bring it up to date. There are some 25,000 names on the registration book, of which a great portion must be stricken from the books, the parties having either moved away from Sedalia or died.

Before the removal can be made the last address given is used for mailing purposes, and unless the party responds or unless the person has not voted in the past four years or last two general elections, the name is removed from the books. An effort must be made by the clerk to notify the affected person of his or her status on the registration books.

To date the clerk has checked all but three precincts, the third, fourth and fifth precincts of the fourth ward. Under the present set up it will take at least a year to clear the registration unless the legislature calls for a completely new registration. At the present time, or since the county clerk has taken charge of the books, little more than 200 persons have registered or re-registered.

Green also said the next election, the school bond election on Tuesday, Feb. 7, will not require the registration books, as this is strictly a school district election and not a general election.

Chester Novack was taken to a Jefferson City hospital in critical condition with a bullet wound in the chest.

Ralph Branson, Bland city marshal, said he received a report of a disturbance at an apartment building where Novack's wife lived with their five children. He said the couple separated last Friday.

Branson said as he drove up to the building in Bland Novack was walking away from the apartment with a 17-year-old son and carrying a shotgun.

"I ordered him to drop the gun," Branson said, "and he fired one shot at me. Two of the pellets went through my cap and the blast struck a building across the street."

Branson said he returned the fire with his .38 caliber revolver and struck Novack with the first shot. He said Novack crawled behind a tree and "I fired two more shots at him" before the man was taken into custody.

Branson said no charges had been filed against Novack.

Pre-Vote Sign-Up Confused

Registration Change Has Risen Again To Torment People; Clerk Action Varies

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—With a special state bond election less than a week away, the 1955 permanent registration law for some cities has arisen again to torment the people.

The law—providing a new permanent registration system for cities of over 10,000 in counties not already having permanent registration—went into effect last Aug. 29. It became effective in a welter of confusion on how it should be put into operation. The confusion is little dissipated now—if at all.

Some county clerks reported they weren't paying too much attention to the law for the present but promised to have the registration system in full operation by the August primary.

Others have attempted to abide by every last detail in the law with reportedly varying results.

And even the attorney general's office declined to say whether the hit-and-miss compliance could endanger the proposed $75 million state bond issue, up for voter consideration next Tuesday.

If approved the bond issue would provide funds for needed buildings at the state's mental institutions, the penal system and the universities and colleges.

In counties where close consideration was given the new law, it is apparent, the number of city voters has been sharply reduced.

Basically, names if former voters were dropped because they failed to re-register after a change of address or because they failed to vote in the last two general elections.

Take Cole County, where Jefferson City is located. There tabulators for County Clerk William H. Teiman found 2,169 voters were improperly registered. That leaves only 10,300 voters in the capital city who are right with the registration books.

But the others still have a few days to re-register, in the opinion of Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair.

In Poplar Bluff, the Butler County clerk, George Collins, Jr., didn't go into the number of re-registrations necessary.

He said he wasn't ready to complete the changeover in registration books yet because he just got the supplies and there wasn't time to do the job before next Tuesday.

He said the new registration system would be in full effect before August.

In Sedalia, the Pettis County clerk was busy checking the list. Already he had found 7,500 persons who failed to vote in the past two general elections and he said the number might reach close to 10,000 before he got through. He was hustling the job so he could let the affected persons know in time to re-register.

President Says He Has No Objection To Primary Entry

Tells Jammed News Conference He Still Has Made No Decision On Whether He Will Run Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he has no objection to entry of his name in the New Hampshire or presidential primaries in other states. But said he still has not made up his mind whether to run for a second term.

Eisenhower told a jammed news conference—his first in Washington since before his September 24 heart attack, that he will announce his decision "as soon as it is firmly fixed in my own mind."

He added: "I shall strive to see that it is based as to my best judgment on the good of our country."

Anticipating a barrage of political questions at this first Washington meeting with newsmen since last Aug. 4, Eisenhower came to today's conference with a prepared statement dealing with his political future.

It was in the form of an official reply to formal notice that his name has been entered in the March 13 New Hampshire presidential primary, the nation's first.

It was a whopping victory in New Hampshire which gave Eisenhower his first big boost toward the Republican presidential nomination four years ago.

In addition to the New Hampshire primary, his name already has been entered this year in the one to be held in Illinois April 10. Petitions by New Hampshire citizens entered Eisenhower's name in that state.

In his reply to formal notice of the action, the President said he was grateful for their confidence and added: "I do not feel I should interpose any objection to such entry."

His statement dealt only with New Hampshire.

But later in the conference, Eisenhower said in reply to a question that he would take the same stand—that is, he would have no objection to entry of his name in any of the state presidential primaries.

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower said today, in regard to criticism by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, that if there were any misstatements in his 1954 State of the Union message they should be taken up with Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Arthur Radford—not with the President.

Eisenhower made the statement at a news conference when asked about Ridgway's magazine article statement that as Army chief of staff he did not go along with the military outburst proposed in that message even though the message said the defense program had been approved unanimously by the joint chiefs of staff.

Ridgway also contended, in the Saturday Evening Post article that he had been put under pressure to fit his ideas on Army needs into a "preconceived politico-military 'party line'" based on budgetary considerations. He said domestic politics was involved.

Eisenhower said such a thing would be contrary to the policies he has followed in his military career.

On the question of unanimity among the Joint Chiefs of Staff Eisenhower said every section of a state of the union message is sent to the department involved so that every item can be checked.

And he said that if any error was discovered in the 1954 message the reporters should see Wilson and Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Wilson told a news conference Tuesday it is his memory that Ridgway was correct in claiming he did not concur in the decision on the level of Army forces for fiscal 1955.

Radford, talking with newsmen today on his return from a worldwide inspection trip, said "as far as I can recall" acceptance of the manpower plans was unanimous.

Eisenhower said he has been getting all sorts of advice—some of it deeply felt but narrowly conceived—ever since 1940. And he said that if he had followed all the advice he got he never would have got across the Atlantic during World War II, much less across the English Channel.

Says Critics Of Military Misdirected

President Protests Way Gen. Ridgway Publicized Ideas

Quits as Head Of New Haven Railroad Firm

NEW YORK (AP)—Patrick B. McGinnis says he is quitting as head of the New Haven Railroad and cites "unprincipled and unbridled" commuter attacks on him as the major reason for stepping down.

McGinnis, fiery, self-made financier, announced last night he has called a special meeting of the line's Board of Directors here tomorrow "for the purpose of resigning as president."

The 51-year-old McGinnis took over the New Haven in April 1954, besting the Frederic Dumaine interests in a bitter proxy fight. Head of the investment firm of McGinnis & Co., he had bought two railroads, the Norfolk Southern and the Central of Georgia.

"Those who know me know I do not run from a fight," McGinnis said. "My resignation is presented to the board because I feel that I can best fulfill my obligations to the stockholders and passengers . . . by making this move."

"In recent months I have been a target of abuse and a focal point of attack to a point that defies reasonable explanation. These attacks do not disturb me personally, but their cumulative effect has been bad for the railroad."

In the past few months criticism has mounted from commuters over repeated delays, schedule disruptions and mechanical failures.

The line suffered a 10-million-dollar blow due to last year's floods.

Its operations currently are under investigation by four separate state public service commissions — New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

Last month, however, McGinnis announced the New Haven realized a profit of 10 millions during 1955—an increase of one million dollars over his first year as president.

The New Haven is the principal transportation system serving southern New England and carrying commuters to New York from the north.

AEC Announces More Atomic Energy Tests

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The first in a series of Atomic Energy Commission tests was conducted yesterday. It was presumed a small atomic device was detonated, but the AEC declined to disclose the nature of the explosion.

No atomic cloud was visible in Las Vegas, 75 miles southeast.

The AEC announcement said only that the "test resulted in a detonation of low explosive force, creating a small low altitude cloud bearing minute amounts of radioactive debris. No offset radiological problems are expected."

The tests have been delayed several times because of weather. The AEC is trying to determine the sensitivity of atomic devices to accidents during storage or handling.

Dr. Fleming Is Speaker At Lions Club

Dr. A. Avery Fleming, chairman of the division of social science, Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, was the principal speaker at the Sedalia Lions Club Wednesday noon. He spoke on the coming state-wide $75,000,000 bond issue to be voted upon Tuesday.

"Now and Tomorrow" was his subject in connection with the needs of the Central Missouri State College. He pointed out the program desired by the board of regents for CMSC totalled an expenditure of $6,736,252, which calls for construction of ten new buildings, repairing and remodeling of eight old buildings and equipment and furnishings for renovated buildings.

He told of the growth of the CMSC in the past 20 years, pointing out that in the fall term of the school in 1937 there were slightly more than 700 students compared with the registration the past fall of well over 2,000 students.

He urged the Lions to support the issue, explaining whether or not the bond issue passes, the needs for expansion and repairs of present facilities will have to be handled by the General Assembly and the same for other state educational institutions and for the corrective institutions.

Kenneth A. Buchholz and W. C. Ream, co-chairmen of the Lions Invitational Basketball Tournament to open Jan. 31, announced the bracket of 16 teams has been filled. They reported more teams wanted to be in the tournament this year than ever before.

"It appears the Sedalia tournament is picking up where it left off several years ago," Buchholz remarked, "and we are going to have another good season. We hope to build the tournament into the tournament of Missouri within the next few years."

Guest at the meeting was James Madorin, Dallas, Tex., of E. B. Smith.

John B. Ellison, president conducted the meeting.

Flying Saucer Is Raft Falling From Airplane

Good Start In UF Drive At Air Base

Nearly $3,000 was collected during the first day, Jan. 16, of the Whiteman AFB United Fund drive, according to totals completed Jan. 17. The goal for the base during the seven-week, consolidated charity campaign is approximately $25,000.

Each officer, enlisted man and civilian employee has been asked to give a day's pay to the drive and response has been extremely good, according to unit project officers. This is the first such drive ever conducted at Whiteman—although other Strategic Air Command and Eighth Air Force bases are successfully carrying out such campaigns—and it has been warmly received by base personnel because it supports all charities with a single donation.

Provisions have been made for those who want to divide their contribution over two or more of four paydays that arise before the campaign ends March 1. A large number of donations collected during the first day of the drive were partial payments on promised larger donations, so that the drive is even more successful than first total indicates.

Personnel who contribute to the United Fund will receive a membership card and a decal as a receipt and proof of participation. These will relieve personnel of responsibility of making other donations—either at home or at any other base if transferred—throughout the rest of the fiscal year, except on a strictly volunteer basis. This drive covers the period from July 1, 1955, through June 30, 1956, and next year's campaign (for fiscal year 1957) will be held in September, 1956.

On the back of the membership card is a list of organizations supported by the drive. Money will go to the Sedalia Community Chest, the Warrensburg Community Chest, and local charities in Windsor, Knob Noster and LaMonte. A portion of the money will also go to such national charities as the American Red Cross, American Cancer Society, National Heart Association, Salvation Army, Cerebral Palsy and the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Giving to the United Fund, however, does not mean the individual can give only to those charities listed on his membership card. Anyone can specify how his money is to be used by merely designating a charity when he makes his donation.

Lt. Col. Harry V. Robb, deputy base commander and president of the WAFB United Fund board of directors, announced that the percentage distribution for the fund has not been completed but that these figures will be available soon.

Senator Says Congress Should Plug Loopholes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) declared today Congress should "plug the loopholes" through which he said Communist-tainted schools have received millions of tax dollars for training veterans.

McClellan heads the Senate Investigations subcommittee, which heard three school officials refuse to say yesterday whether they ever had been Communists. All three said they are not now.

McClellan announced he has ordered a bill drafted to bar Communist-owned private schools from receiving tuition payments or other financial benefits from federal agencies in connection with the GI Bill of Rights training program.

He said that when hearings resume next week the subcommittee will try to find out whether the Veterans Administration, as it contends, lacks authority to refuse to let veterans enroll at the government's expense in schools owned by Reds.

Three witnesses invoked the Fifth Amendment's guarantees against possible self-incrimination yesterday in refusing to say whether they had been Communists in the past. They were M. Michael Freedland, part owner of the Radio Television Technical School in Allentown, Pa.; and Burne Hogarth and Silas Rhodes, owners of the Cartoonists and Illustrators School, Inc., of New York City. All testified they are not Communists now.

Medal of St. Dismas Leads to Capture

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Wesley G. Wallace, 44, dropped a medal portraying St. Dismas, the good thief, and wound up in jail yesterday charged with burglary. Police found the medal on a roof near a window in Wallace's downtown hotel room. They also found clothing in the room reported stolen from a clothing store next door. The place had been entered from the roof via skylight. Det. Carl Blasofel said Wallace, a parolee, admitted the burglary.

All of the officers in the home office met with some 30 agents in the general meeting. There were reviews of work done in 1955 and the 1956 quotas and recruiting plans were discussed. The schooling and training of new agents was also discussed and the group exchanged ideas on sales work.

Navy Says It May Have First Atomic Plane

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary Charles S. Thomas said today the Navy may have, in its huge SeaMaster seaplane, an aircraft capable of future atomic flight.

The SeaMaster is an experimental plane now powered by non-atomic jet engines. One test model crashed a few weeks ago in Chesapeake Bay near the mouth of the Potomac River, but a second plane is under construction.

The Navy is reported convinced of the plane's worth once it is perfected. Meanwhile, other experiments are under way to develop an atomic engine for aircraft.

Thomas, in testimony prepared for the House Armed Services Committee supporting a 1½-billion-dollar navy ship construction bill, said:

"The large hull of the new SeaMaster type of jet seaplane may be the airframe which will take aloft the first nuclear power plant."

Thomas also said, "The Navy expects next year to request the funds for a nuclear-powered aircraft carrier."

Ex-President Truman Says China Could Be Unified Country

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ex-President Truman says he is sure China could be a free, unified country today but for Chiang Kai-shek's refusal to accept a peaceful agreement with the Communists.

He says the Chinese generalissimo's "attitudes and actions were those of an old-fashioned warlord, and, as with warlords, there was no love for him among the people."

In a new installment of his memoirs, appearing in Life magazine out today, the former President says perhaps Chiang's greatest mistake was failing to heed Gen. George C. Marshall's advice when Truman sent Marshall on a "peace" mission in 1946.

Authorities Hope Tour Of Prison Will Curb Juvenile Delinquency

BOSTON (AP)—Authorities hope to curb crime and juvenile delinquency in Massachusetts by taking school children on guided tours of the dingy, 150-year-old State Prison at Charlestown, now being abandoned.

Correction Commissioner Russell G. Oswald said yesterday "Any youngster, no matter what his background, should be profoundly impressed by what he sees at Charlestown."

The tours will begin in March after all the prisoners are moved to the new nine million dollar prison at Walpole. Some former inmates have offered their services as guides.

Smartest Buy in the fine-car field

You've probably noticed that more and more people seem to be stepping into the upper circle of fine cars.

And there can be no doubt that "good times" have a lot to do with this.

But all by itself, it doesn't explain the sudden spurt in sales of the finest of Buicks—the 1956 Roadmaster.

For it has always been our experience that folks with the wherewithal to buy any car they choose are apt to be the choicest of all.

So it seems quite clear that the marked and increasing preference for Roadmaster is in the fineness of the car itself.

We can tell you why very simply.

Roadmaster starts off with all the virtues that have vaulted the full line of Buicks to soaring popular favor—then caps that acclaim with a worthiness all its own.

You sense this especial eminence at once—in the individualized styling of this gracefully proportioned car.

You recognize it again—in the quiet elegance of its custom appointments—and in the good taste of its luxurious fabrics and color harmonies.

But you know it for sure in the lift and thrill and spirit of Roadmaster performance.

For here is the obedient might of the highest-powered V8 engine in Buick history—coupled to the flash-fast response and absolute smoothness of an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo—most modern transmission in motoring today.

And here is Buick comfort, Buick handling ease, Buick roadability, and the great Buick ride—each brought to its peak in this Buick of Buicks.

In all truth, no man who puts true merit above mere symbol could ask for more than is his in Roadmaster.

If that applies to you, we'll be happy to arrange an introduction. Will you phone us—or come in—for a demonstration soon?

Square Dance Patter

Bill Shilling, younger brother of gun-toting Marvin Shilling, will call for the Sedalia Square Dance Association's second dance of the Spring season Saturday evening at the Smith-Cotton cafeteria at 8 p.m.

At the National Convention held last year in Oklahoma City they both appeared in regular cowpuncher attire, complete with shooting irons, and needless to say, had things well under control.

Efforts are being made to have Marvin Shilling come to Sedalia later this year on his regular tour. The Sedalia stop will be the first of a rather extended trip for Bill Shilling, who is starting East on a tour of the various square dance centers.

Horace Mann School Pupils Need Assistance

Sedalia's school bond proposal, to be voted on Feb. 7, includes $118,225 to construct six new classrooms at Horace Mann School, with corridors and toilets, to enlarge the lunchroom by 50 per cent, and to build a retaining wall on the south and east sides of the playground.

According to the State Department of Education at Jefferson City, it is more economical to operate a large school than a small one. Accepting this theory — and it is borne out by actual figures — Horace Mann School is getting into the economical category with a vengeance.

Four years ago school enrollment was 282. This winter it is 456. Four years from now it is expected to be still a hundred more, or 551. And this expected increase is not based on crystal-gazing — it merely accounts for the pre-school age children who are now living in the Horace Mann district.

Order Amid Crowding
After reading the above figures, a visitor might expect the school to be crowded, and it is. This might not be fully apparent at first sight. The children take their place and go about the serious business of getting an education with a minimum of confusion. This is a tribute to the principal, P. A. Sillers, and his staff of teachers — and to the children, themselves — in the fact that crowded facilities are used with such orderliness.

The original school building had eight classrooms. Two rooms were carved out of the basement, and six more rooms were built between 1951 and 1954, together with a cafeteria and auditorium-gymnasium. The school has thus far kept even with the rising tide of enrollment. The additions made were conservative and sound. If the increase in school attendance had leveled off after 1954, the present school would be entirely adequate.

But the increase did not level off, and today Horace Mann is on the verge of being swamped.

The state recommends elementary classes of about 25, or not to exceed 30, pupils. Once you get above that figure, there are problems of discipline and instruction. In large classes it is hard to make sure that each child gets the answers to his own questions — about the hard part of the lesson, that he did not quite understand — so that he can keep up with the prescribed course of study.

This winter Horace Mann has 16 classrooms for 456 pupils, or an average of 28½ pupils per room.

Here again, at first glance the problem is not acute. But it is the larger numbers of children in the lower grades, and the larger numbers of pre-school age children, that give the key.

Classroom Yardstick
Present enrollment requires three classrooms for each of the first, second, and third grades. This leaves seven classrooms for the upper four grades. In four years, when the lower grades move up, Horace Mann will need three classrooms per grade to keep up the present standard of teaching.

The school improvement program recommended by the Board of Education makes just this provision: six new classrooms plus the 16 already built will provide three rooms for each of the seven grades plus a music room.

This winter with all classrooms occupied by regular classes, music classes have been held in the gymnasium. A separate music room will allow the gym to be used for its primary purpose, physical education, on a full schedule instead of a part-time arrangement alternating with music, as at present.

Two of the proposed new classrooms are to be built on the south of the existing building. The basement under this addition will be used to add 30 per cent more space to the present cafeteria, which is already full and with 100 more pupils will be badly overcrowded. Four other classrooms are planned to be built north of the school, on one level. Boys' and girls' toilets will be added in this wing.

The school has enough boiler capacity to serve the additions proposed.

The playground at the school slopes down several feet to street level on the south and east. When the playground is full at noon and at recess, this slope is a constant hazard for children falling down at play or running into the street after a rolling ball. The plans call for a retaining wall to be built, so as to eliminate the slope. Topped by a fence, it will not only end the play hazard, but will make an addition of precious space to the playground, in a strip 20 to 30 feet wide next to the sidewalk.

Plans for the improvements at Horace Mann School are prominently displayed in the school corridor, as well as plans for improvements at the other elementary schools and the high school.

Invitation Is Extended
Sillers asked The Democrat-Capital to extend this invitation to Sedalia residents: "I will be glad to have you visit Horace Mann School and discuss the school improvement program with me. I welcome the opportunity to show you the plans, explain the program and answer questions to the best of my ability. I am generally in my office between the hours of 9 and 4 and can arrange other hours by appointment."

The proposals for Horace Mann School are part of the Sedalia school improvement program recommended by the Board of Education. The needs of other schools will be discussed in following articles in The Democrat-Capital.

This program will be submitted to the voters for approval in a special school bond election Feb. 7. Voting places will be open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. in each of the seven elementary schools of the city. All residents of the city are eligible to vote in this special election, even if they are not registered to vote in regular elections. The only requirements are that they be 21 years of age or older, live inside the present city boundaries, and have lived in the city 30 days in the state a year.

Under Missouri law, school improvement bonds must receive a two-thirds majority of the vote to pass.

Hal Boyle's Column—

Finds Ritz Waiters 'Never!' Spill Anything on a Guest

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—One of my favorite rebel dreams is to see a waiter at the Ritz spill a plate of soup on a celebrity.

"How often does this happen?" I hopefully asked Steve Terzano, the maitre d'hotel there. Steve, who has been a high priest to two generations of international gourmets, lifted his eyebrows in horror.

"Never," he exclaimed indignantly. "It could not happen. At the very worst a waiter might drop a hot plate to the floor. But spill something on a guest—? Never! Never! Never!"

To Steve, who can spot a wrinkle in a napkin at 40 paces, such a thing would be a greater tragedy than the collapse of the Leaning Tower of Pisa. And particularly if it happened while he was on duty. While he is on the job food is his religion, service is his god.

Except for 28 stomach-wearying months in an Austrian prison camp during the first World War Steve, who was born in Italy, has spent the last 47 of his 61 years in Ritz hotels, first in Buenos Aires, then in New York. When the old Ritz was torn down several years ago, he and most of the staff moved up Madison Avenue to the New Ritz restaurant in the plush Carlton House.

Steve deplores the hurried habits of today's harried diners, remembers fondly the days when people took their vitamins more leisurely. "No meal should be eaten in less than an hour," he said firmly, "and it should be accompanied by a good French wine. Then you will live longer."

Many of Steve's longtime guests refuse even to look at the menu. They insist that he select for them, a task he thoroughly enjoys, for to him a good meal is like a table symphony.

What do celebrities like to eat? Here are some favorite dishes of some of the well-known people he has served:

Ronald Amundsen, the explorer—corned beef hash topped with an egg.

Robert Montgomery and Queen Marie of Romania—cold chicken with a liver pate.

Former Governor Thomas E. Dewey and George Jessel—boiled beef.

Gladys Swarthout—lobster thermidor.

Kate Smith and Tommy Manville—French lamb chops.

Grace Kelly and Wendell Wilkie—chicken hash.

Ex-President Herbert Hoover—bouillabaisse.

I asked Steve, who has selected hundreds of thousands of meals for notables, his idea of a dream meal—"the perfect dinner." His eyes sparkled at the thought.

"First, assorted hot canapés à la Ritz with dry martini," he began dreamily, "followed by some black caviar and a nip of aquavit. Next, a cup of petite marmite, a soup made of chicken, beef, beef marrow and fresh vegetables, served with grated cheese and floating pieces of toast."

"Next, the fish, English sole veronique, cooked with white wine and white grapes and accompanied by a Rhine or moselle wine."

"Next, tender string beans and tournedos gascón, a filet mignon with pate, invented by our general manager, Gaston Laurysen, and named in his honor. A good French Bordeaux wine with this, of course."

"Next, a vanilla soufflé with Grand Marnier liqueur, followed by a glass of champagne."

"Finally, coffee demi-tasse, with green creme de menthe for the ladies and a good French brandy for the gentlemen."

"After a dinner like that, it is to feel like you are in paradise. You will remember it the rest of your life."

What would it cost? Well, buying a dinner like that is like buying a yacht. If you're going to worry about price, you might as well forget the whole thing and order a hamburger.

Calm Celebration

DOUGLAS, Ariz. (AP)—Everybody had a real blow-out at the party honoring Frank Crabtree's retirement except the guest of honor. He had to take it easy.

Crabtree, as postal employee here for 35 years, went to work bright and early the next day as office manager for a refrigeration store.

Ridgway Accepts Bid To Tell Congress About Budget Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Matthew Ridgway is willing to tell Congress — as he told magazine readers — about his budgetary problems as Army chief of staff.

Rep. Sikes (D-Fla.), announcing Ridgway's acceptance yesterday of an invitation to appear before an Appropriations subcommittee Sikes heads, said a mutually agreeable date will be fixed later.

The former Army head wrote in a Saturday Evening Post article this week that the Defense Department had tried to pressure him to fit his views to a "pre-conceived politico-military 'party line,'" based on budget needs.

Secretary of Defense Wilson has said he doesn't recall putting pressure on Ridgway, but conceded the general had not agreed with some department decisions.

Leo Durocher Leaves NBC Television Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Former baseball manager Leo Durocher is out, at least temporarily, as master of ceremonies for the televised NBC Comedy Hour.

A network spokesman said Durocher is busy with other commitments and that he had agreed to do three shows and already has done two.

Those two were part of a series in which NBC hopes to capture some of the viewing audience from the Ed Sullivan Show on rival CBS. However, ratings of the program's drawing power were disappointing.

The spokesman said this Sunday's program is planned with no master of ceremonies, but Durocher, who has a 150,000-a-year contract with NBC, is expected to return at a later date.

Mississippi Boy Raises Top Corn Crop

CHICAGO (AP)—A Mississippi farm boy, who has no plans to be a farmer, has reaped big rewards and honors for raising a record corn crop on one acre of land.

Lamar Ratliff's bumper crop of 304.38 bushels on his father's farm at Baldwin, Miss., is an all-time high. His feat was compared to running the mile in less than four minutes or climbing Mt. Everest.

The average acre of corn yields about 40 bushels. Lamar, 16-year-old high school junior, had a simple explanation of how he did it:

"I just worked at it, I reckon. But I had some help from my mule Dolly."

Lamar, a 4-H club member, and his father Paul were in Chicago for a luncheon in the youth's honor attended by representatives of hybrid seed corn and farm implement industries.

He was given $1,000 by the Farm Journal to help finance his college education. He also got $500 from a seed corn company. The magazine gave Lamar's father $1,000 to be spent for improvement or equipment for the Ratliff's 170-acre hill farm in northern Mississippi.

In setting the new record, Lamar exceeded by 63 bushels the previous high corn yield of 241 bushels per acre set in 1954 by A. J. Custer of near Fort Wayne, Ind.

The youth began aiming at high corn yields six years ago in a patch of sandy loam that had seldom produced more than 30

Lady Apologizes To Police Department

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A kindly old lady apologized to the Police Department yesterday for all the fuss she caused over $38,584 in stocks and bonds that she thought had been stolen.

It was all due to a lapse of memory. 71-year-old Mary Wright explained. The securities were tucked away in a safety deposit box, neatly wrapped as she had left them.

Miss Wright called at her bank yesterday, looked in her safe deposit box—and there were no securities. She said she could not remember putting them there.

bushels per acre. The first year he grew 179 bushels on one acre and gradually pushed his yield up to 218½ bushels.

In planning for the 1955 crop, Lamar, after planting, cultivating and thinning, had 25,800 stalks in his acre. It was fertilized with 15 tons of manure and 1,500 pounds of commercial plant foods. More than 40 inches of rain fell on the patch during the growing season.

"I think I'd like to be a doctor," Lamar said. "There's no money in farming."

Pioneers Didn't Have This Kind of Luxury

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP)—The cattlemen who in the last century used to ride the old Chisholm Trail didn't have the advantage of civic clubs when it came to cooking up a meal.

Tom Hickman, 70, former Texas Ranger, started down the historic trail on horseback Tuesday, complete with bedroll and cooking equipment, for the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth.

But after a day and night in a driving snow and sleet storm, Hickman declared a two day recess. Yesterday noon he dined with the Gainesville Rotary Club. Last night he attended a banquet here, and today he will be driven to Vernon to lunch with the Lions' Club. He plans to resume the horseback ride tomorrow.

RISKY—Ingrid Bergman, the controversial star who left her husband and Hollywood for marriage and movie-making in Italy, caused one of Hollywood's biggest hassles in 1955. The debate was over the casting of Ingrid in "Anastasia." Many movie-makers and theater owners believed her conduct had made her unpopular with fans. But Producer Darryl Zanuck took the chance. Eden Claims Reprisal Fear Prevents War

BRADFORD, England (AP)—Warning that there is "plenty of dry tinder" in the smoldering Middle East to touch off World War III, Prime Minister Eden said last night fear of nuclear reprisal is still the chief deterrent to global conflict.

Speaking at a Conservative party rally, Eden warned against over confidence that the danger of general war has receded.

"I do not want to be misunderstood," he said. "The risk is always there and a universal explosion could easily be touched off by hostilities in some critical region such as the Middle East."

"If there is less fear of world conflict today," he said, "it is due to the deterrent of nuclear weapons. Remove the deterrent or take risks in pretending the deterrent is not there, and the world outlook would be terrifying indeed."

"The justification for both atomic and hydrogen bombs is that they are deterrents so awful no country will risk their use against itself."

In an apparent turnaround of Russia's demand for an end to hydrogen bomb tests, Eden said Britain intends to go ahead with the development of its own H-bomb.

"It becomes increasingly unlikely any country possessing hydrogen bombs would deliberately use it against a rival power that owns it also," he said. "We intend to own it also."

Eden's speech had been widely viewed as the opening gun in a campaign to rebuild his government's prestige, which recently has hit a low point at home because of spiraling domestic inflation and Soviet gains in the Middle East.

But the Prime Minister's pledge of alert resistance to rising prices at home and Red aggression abroad aroused only lukewarm enthusiasm in the British press.

Senate Group Checks Sales Abuses Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Backed by a poll of retail auto dealers, a Senate subcommittee launches public hearings today on charges of abuses in auto sales.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.), chairman of a Commerce subcommittee on automobile marketing, released in advance of the session a poll of retail dealers showing widely held views that "bootlegging," "phantom freight" and other practices must be curbed.

The subcommittee's questionnaire was answered by 19,113 of the nation's 42,000 dealers.

Of those who replied, 13,749 endorsed "congressional study or federal legislation with regard to automobile dealers' problems."

Called as the first witness was George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., which makes Hudson and Nash cars.

Romney said in a prepared statement he believes "many car customers are developing a 'customer beware' attitude as a result of horse-trading practices that have characterized new car selling in the postwar period."

"I believe the automobile industry as a whole has suffered in public esteem as a result," he continued. "I believe many dealers are disgusted at the methods and ethics of current automobile marketing practices."

He said his company has adopted a new policy designed to give its dealers a bigger voice in car selling problems.

"Bootlegging" was defined by the subcommittee as discount sales of cars by regular dealers to nonfranchised dealers for resale.

In the questionnaire, 11,552 dealers said "bootlegging" was seriously detrimental to their business. Most of them blamed overproduction and pressure from the factory to take more cars than needed.

Monroney said "phantom freight" often leads to extra charges of $75 to $125 a car, based on railroad rates charged as if the cars were shipped from Detroit. Actually, he said, most cars are completed and shipped from widely scattered assembly plants, many by truck at much lower than rail rates.

New York City Faces Taxi Driver Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Taxi drivers, in the wake of a one-day walkout, have voted overwhelmingly to authorize a full-scale strike if necessary to gain recognition of the teamsters union as bargaining agent for the drivers.

The work stoppage yesterday aimed at fleet companies which own about 7,000 of the city's 12,000 cabs — was termed by police as 50 per cent effective.

An overflow meeting of drivers at Manhattan Center last night gave strike authorization to the union, which claims 17,000 members among the 25,000 fleet cab drivers.

Faith in Dulles Is Voiced by President In News Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today voiced complete faith in Secretary of State Dulles but declined to get into the controversy over Dulles' "brink of war" interview.

Eisenhower told a news conference he has not read the Life magazine article in which Dulles was quoted as saying administration policy has prevented war in Asia three times and that "the ability to get to the verge without getting into the war is the necessary art."

Eisenhower said his own view is that, in waging peace the country has got to stand firmly on essential matters. And if that brings on the danger of a conflict because of aggressive actions by others, he said, you can regard that as a brink.

Runaway Truck Stops In Service Station But Not For Service

ST. LOUIS (AP)—John Neidergerke, a service station attendant, decided the big tractor-trailer headed for his station in St. Louis County was not coming for gas.

He was right. In fact, the vehicle lacked a driver.

It crashed through closed doors of the lubrication room and knocked out a wall at the other end last night.

Missouri Highway Patrolmen said the vehicle, which contained 5,000 gallons of fuel oil, had been parked across the road because of motor trouble. The brakes apparently gave way, the officers said.

Neidergerke, who was not hurt, said the truck will have to stay a while—it is the only thing holding up the roof.

Fire Causes Single Casualty in Office Building in Muskogee

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP)—A menacing fire that broke out half way up the 10-story Barnes office building today raced almost unnoticed through two floors today before it was brought under control by firemen.

Only one casualty resulted. Tom Gaddy, a worker in one of the downtown structure's offices, was overcome by smoke and hospitalized. His condition was reported not serious.

At the height of the blaze, flames licked from fifth and sixth floor windows. Between 10 and 15 persons were sighted leaning from the top story's windows waving for help when they were cut off temporarily from stairs and elevators.

New Assembly Members Meet First Time

PARIS (AP)—Members of France's new National Assembly gathered for their opening session today amid more moves by two parties of the non-Communist left to take over the reins of government.

With the opening of the new chamber, veteran Communist Deputy Marcel Cachin was scheduled to take the gavel as temporary president. As the oldest member of the House, Cachin, 86, was named until a regular speaker is chosen.

Both the 152 Communists and the new bloc of 52 of Pierre Poujade's tax rebels are expected to wield a strong influence in the House. But it will be up to the moderate parties in between to piece together a cabinet that can attract a voting majority to support it.

It seemed likely the first such move would come from the Socialists and the Radical party supporters of former Premier Pierre Mendes-France. This alliance was expected to support Socialist leader Guy Mollet for the premiership.

If these two groups succeed in forming a government they may well get the support of the Communists, whose 152 members constitute the biggest single party in the new Assembly.

One conservative paper, quoting the late Soviet leader Nikolai Lenin, likened such backing to "the kind of support a rope gives a man who has been hanged."

Premier Edgar Faure called the Jan. 2 election — six months ahead of schedule — by dissolving the Assembly after he had been roundly defeated on a confidence vote over proposed changes in France's electoral law. Faure said he took the action in an attempt to find a clear mandate for a new cabinet from a new Assembly.

Instead France wound up with a body even more divided than the old one, and with no clear majority in view for any one group because of the Faure-Mendes-France split in the moderate factions.

The Socialists, Radicals and their minor allies command only about 160 votes — far from a majority in the 596-member House.

AF Needs Seven Ground Observer Posts in County

Air Force Ground Observer Corps representatives from the St. Joseph filter center have been visiting a number of communities in Pettis County. Their purpose is to establish ground observer posts throughout this area. At the present time seven posts in Pettis County are urgently needed, along with as many civilian volunteers who can spare two or more hours a week.

Air Force and Civil Defense officials have designated several towns in Pettis County as proposed ground observer posts, due to their location within the Air Defense Identification Zone. These towns include Sedalia, Smithton, LaMonte, Houstonia, Green Ridge, Dresden and Hughesville.

This work is of utmost importance in the defense program of the United States. The mission of the Ground Observer Corps is to aid the air defense system in observing plotting and reporting movements of any unidentified aircraft.

Anyone interested in establishing a ground observer post may contact the Ground Observer Corps, c/o St. Francis Hotel, St. Joseph, or call St. Joseph 4-5694 for further information or to arrange a meeting with the Ground Observer Corps representative.

A-2c Martin Quitten, and another airman whose name was not obtained, also of the WAFB, escaped with minor bruises. They accompanied Burke back to the base in the car of a civilian who stopped to offer assistance and took the injured man to the base hospital.

Trooper Pete Stohr, who investigated the accident, said damages would amount to more than $1,000 to the vehicle.

The wrecked car was towed to Sedalia by Chamberlin's wrecker.

Another accident on Highway 50 occurred about 1:30 a.m. Thursday, two miles west of Sedalia, when the car struck a slick spot on the pavement and skidded from the highway. The car was driven by Charles M. Davis, 23, of the Whiteman Air Force Base, who escaped injury.

Davis told Trooper Pete Stohr he was driving west when the car skidded to the left side of the highway as he rounded a curve, went a short distance and struck a drain spillway. As the car hit the spillway, it flipped and rolled over a 12-foot embankment.

The car, a 1954 Ford sedan, was damaged to an extent of about $400. Chamberlin's wrecker towed the car to Sedalia.

Franklyn Esser received several cuts on his right leg while using a power saw Friday, Jan. 13. There were cuts both above and below the knee. Several stitches had to be taken.

Lamb—Provides Variety in Meat

Lamb marketings are on the increase late in the year. In most markets, supplies are relatively large in January. This year lamb prices are a little below a year ago and consumers are being reminded that it is a good time to buy. Lamb provides variety in meat for winter and early spring meals.

Consumers in the west coast states eat a considerable amount of lamb, not as much as New York, but more than the mid-west.

Since 1950, lamb and mutton consumption has been less than formerly. In the last few years it has varied between 4 and 4½ pounds per person (beef, 81 pounds; pork, 66 pounds in 1955).

Sheep production has not increased with the population. The only way the lamb consumption per person has been maintained has been by being able to save more lambs per hundred ewes, by marketing lambs weighing a little more, and by making small reduction in inventories.

All lamb shipped in interstate commerce is federally inspected. Grading is not required by law, although much of the lamb sold is graded. Some of the large packers prefer to use brand names for grades. Such names as Star Delux, Puritan, Best, or Premium may appear on top grade lamb.

Lamb has many qualities to recommend it to consumers. It has a distinctive flavor which gives it appetite appeal. It supplies essential nutrients—protein, iron and the B-vitamins, riboflavin and thiamine. Lamb is tender and easy to prepare and serve.

Lamb is considered by many to be a luxury item among meats. However, many of the less well known cuts from the lower grades are good choices for those stretching their meat dollars.

Higher cost cuts—1. loin (roasts, chops); 2. ribs (roasts, chops); 3. Medium cost cuts—3. leg (roasts and steaks); 4. shoulder (roasts, steaks).

Lower cost cuts—5. breast (roasts); 6. neck (braising, broth, stew); 7. shanks (broth, stew).

Layton, Cue King Is Dead

Former Sedalian In Prime Held World's Record 13 Times

Johnny M. Layton, whose mastery of the cue gave him not less than 13 world championships at three-cushion billiards, in the years 1930 to 1935, is dead at the age of 68. He was found lifeless in his room Wednesday morning at 4424 Blair Avenue, St. Louis, by another roomer, George Seal, and it was believed he suffered a heart attack.

Layton, aside from championships in three-cushion billiards, previously had two world titles at pocket billiards in which he defeated many of the top-notchers, among them being Ralph Greenleaf, the boy prodigy from Illinois.

His career started in Sedalia when he became acquainted with the late Charles J. McEniry at the old Rex Billiards Hall on East Third. His wizardry over the pool tables readily brought him recognition and he entered tournaments at St. Louis and other cities, including Sedalia.

In all his championship matches he proudly proclaimed being from Sedalia which he referred to as "capital of the world". Professionally he was called the "Sedalia redhead."

In 1939 he was hit by a streetcar in Chicago and was hospitalized for a long period in which he suffered an injured spine, and this shattered his sensitive reflexes and slowed down his remarkable ability of former years. As titleholder many years, he was in demand and traveled all over the United States giving exhibitions of his skill for a billiard and pool tables supply company. In tournaments and on other play he appeared before packed houses, meriting the acclaim of throngs in most all the large cities of America.

Many of the famous billiardists of yesterday, such as Willie Hoppe, Welker Cochran, Jake Schaeffer and others, went down to defeat at one time or another before Layton. He was the developer of the diamond system of billiards which he conceived and adopted in his play.

A few years ago Layton, who had been in retirement from professional engagements, returned to Sedalia after absence of several years and, hoping to regain some of his lost prowess and steady his once unflinching nerves in performances, spent several months in the Ozarks region at the Lake of the Ozarks, fishing, hunting and even cutting wood. He never fully regained his health.

His wife, Florence, from whom he was separated, resides in St. Louis. A son also survives.

Funeral services will be from the Math Hermann Funeral Home, St. Louis, Saturday morning.

A coroner's inquest into his death was scheduled for Thursday.

Tampa Women's Open Championship Is Goal of 121 Players

TAMPA, Fla., (AP)—A field of 121 began play today for the Tampa Women's Open golf tournament championship left out-defended by the great Babe Zaharias.

Mrs. Zaharias, a three-time winner of the 72-hole tournament, is in a hospital at Galveston, Tex., for treatment after her second attack of cancer.

The logical successor to the Babe as the favorite is Louise Suggs, who won the $5,000 event twice and was only a stroke behind her last year. Miss Suggs always has scored well at the tricky, well-trapped Palma Ceia course and shares the tournament record of 283 with Mrs. Zaharias.

In a tribute to Mrs. Zaharias, the Ladies Professional Golf Assn. (LPGA) announced it will award annually the "Babe Zaharias Golfer of the Year trophy."

The award will be based on the player's finish in a tournament and the number of tournaments she plays in.

Warsaw Lions Tourney Into 2nd Round

Two Springfield Teams, Waynesville Win Wed. Night

Two outstanding individual scoring performances, an advance into the quarterfinals by two Springfield teams, and Waynesville's win in the only second-round game of the evening featured activity in the Warsaw Lions Invitational basketball tournament Wednesday night.

Opening the second night of play in the tournament the Springfield S.M.S. Independents squeaked past Camdenton with an 85-82 victory. The Independents proved too much for the Camdenton cagers in the first three periods by rolling up quarterly leads of 19-15, 43-27 and 68-50, respectively. However, the Springfield group was saved by the clock in the final quarter when they saw their 18-point lead dwindle to three before time ran out dousing a 32-17 rally by Camdenton.

Brown led the scoring with 25 for Springfield, followed closely by teammate Birdsong who scored 24 for the Independents. Anderson was high for Camdenton with 20 while Camdenton's Parish accounted for 19.

The second contest of the evening saw a well balanced Springfield Heer's team roll easily over Deepwater by a 94-66 score. At time was Heer's threatened, scoring at will on an impressively coordinated offense to outplay the opposition by 30-22, 11-6, 25-21 and 28-17 in the respective quarters.

Murphy was the game's high point-maker with 22 for Deepwater. Campbell was the front runner for Springfield with 20.

John Lennox, former Central Missouri State College cage star, of Waynesville, and Thomas of Buffalo highlighted the final game of the evening by staging thrilling scoring exhibitions. Lennox chalked up a total of 48 points in leading Waynesville to a 100-84 triumph over Buffalo, while Thomas racked up 45 points for the losers.

Waynesville players leaped ahead early with a 25-19 first-quarter lead and continued to increase their edge at the halftime, 47-38, at the three-quarter mark, 76-61, and the final score of 100-84.

In tonight's games Warsaw will meet Sedalia Hamm's Beer; Republicans Springfield S.M.S. Independents; and Knob Noster opposes Springfield Heer's. Waynesville will see action Friday night against the winner of the Warsaw-Sedalia Hamm's tilt.

White Sox Signs Key Player to Contract

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox today had one of their key performers, second sacker Nellie Fox, under contract for 1956 at a substantial salary increase.

In fiery Fox, all-star American League second baseman for the past five years, last season batted .311, fourth highest in the league.

Tarheels Get Sweet Revenge In Big Upset

The Associated Press

North Carolina pulled off one of the year's biggest basketball upsets last night.

The Tarheels, using only one substitute—and he didn't score—gained sweet revenge by whipping third-ranked North Carolina State 73-69. The Wolfpack had walloped North Carolina 82-60 in the finals of the Dixie Classic last month.

The Tarheels now have a 13-2 record for the year and their league-leading Atlantic Coast Conference mark is 8-1. Coach Frank McGuire's lads were No. 5 in the latest Associated Press poll.

Dayton, the nation's second-ranked team behind San Francisco, continued unbeaten by walloping Villanova 71-50 for its 13th victory of the campaign.

In other games, Louisville, No. 10, dumped Memphis State 85-75. St. Louis beat DePaul 89-71. West Virginia defeated Pitt 84-70. Georgia Tech knocked over Furman 85-75 despite Darrell Floyd's 36 points.

And Columbia trampled Yale 90-54 in an Ivy League tilt.

Lennie Rosenbluth, North Carolina's sharp-shooting junior, led his team with 23 points although high man for the night was State's Ron Shavlik with 26. The Wolfpack, who are 12-2 for the season, almost tied the game in the closing seconds but Carolina's Jerry Vayda deflected hard-charging Vic Molodet's driving layup shot which would have made it 71-71.

Midyear examinations will leave first place in the ACC unchanged until Feb. 4 when the Tarheels take on Duke's Blue Devils, who are runners-up with 6-1.

Dayton's Flyers had some trouble from Villanova's zone defense early in their game, but they forged ahead 13-12 and never were headed. Bill Uhl of Dayton paced the scorers with 19 points.

Book Sales Reach Record High for '55

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—The room in our house known as the library contains several hundred books, a typewriter and some comfortable chairs. It also contains a television set.

The other evening a friend who dropped in glanced at the books and remarked, "I bet you don't have much chance to read any more."

It's true that my job requires that I view a lot of television programs. Yet I also read a lot. I don't read as much as I did before but I read more intensively.

This, incidentally, is one of the conclusions reached some time ago in a New York study of television and reading habits.

A couple of years ago book publishers were quite concerned over the effects of television on the book trade. Today they are not. For the book trade has just completed what appears to be its most successful year since World War II.

Many good books were published and widely read. No major publishing house closed its doors and most have made satisfactory profits. The happy year of 1955 in the book trade, remember, occurred at the same time as a happy year in the television industry when sales reached an all-time high.

Let me talk about myself for a moment and so possibly explain what happens with many people. Last weekend, when I was in a reading mood, my wife and I spent about six hours looking at television. About half of this time was pleasurable. The rest was duty.

Much of the remainder of the weekend I spent reading. Television has made me jealous of reading hours. Increasingly I want to read something specific instead of "anything."

Television now affords me the "escape" that some reading once did. When I read these days I seek something that television cannot possibly offer.

Robber's Companion More Soft-Hearted

DENVER (AP)—One of the two men who held up Bill Sparks was more kind hearted than his partner. Sparks said the man who held the gun was so irritated at finding Sparks' wallet moneyless that he threatened to shoot him in the leg. But the gunman's companion talked him out of it and they vanished.

County Jailer Dies Just a Few Hours After Retirement

BONHAM, Tex. (AP)—Cecil Ruark, 70, who resigned as county jailer "to take things easy," turned in his keys yesterday noon and said goodbye to fellow officers. To celebrate his retirement he went hunting with his son, Johnny. They were only a few miles south of Bonham yesterday afternoon when the father dropped dead of a heart attack.

London Smog Gives Rise To Tall Tales

LONDON (AP)—Ever had somebody try to mail a letter in your left ear?

Such things happened recently in the choking yellow London smog—an evil-smelling mixture of fog, sulphur fumes and smoke which blacks out the city for days on end in the winter.

Medical men are worried about its effect on health, but the average Londoner knows how to make the best of it. A new cult—the smog story—has found favor. And the more embarrassing the incident, the bigger the laugh.

The tabloid Daily Mirror invited readers to share their smog stories. These are some of the letters that flooded in. (The paper didn't vouch for their truth):

There was the coalman from Harrow who asked a local man to show him where the coal bunkers were. Next morning he found he'd carefully emptied a sackful into four separate telephone booths.

Truck driver in Hagerty reported a colleague halted his big truck and climbed down—into water up to his knees. Terrified that he might have driven into a river, he stayed shivering in the cab all night—until the fog lifted and he found the truck parked beside a horse trough.

There was the man from Kent who wrote: "My wife stopped in the fog to look at a fur coat in the window. After a while I joined her, gave her an affectionate pat where she sits and asked, 'What would you give me for that, my pet?'"

"A slap on the face was the answer, with a shout of 'This you old fool.' It was a woman I'd never seen before."

Mrs. Dallywater of West Wickham was the unfortunate who said she was mistaken for a post box in the fog, and Miss "S. J." confessed she walked out of a party one night, hailed a waiting taxi and was driven home—only to find she had stepped into a police squad car.

Wrote E. R. L. of Ilford: "I asked my wife to wait on the corner while I fetched an evening paper. When I came back, I said to her, 'Come on dear, the best place on a night like this is in bed.'"

"Unfortunately, it wasn't my wife."

Man Who Addressed Royalty As Cousin Has Heart Attack

CROCKETT, Tex. (AP)—Nat Patton the Texas congressman who addressed a King and Queen of England as "Cousin George" and "Cousin Elizabeth" and thereby gained international notice, today was under treatment for a severe heart attack.

He suffered the attack Tuesday night. Doctors say that if no complications develop in the next 10 days to 2 weeks, Patton has a good chance for recovery. He represented the Third Texas District from 1936 to 1946.

Buddy Ebsen Blesses All Experiences

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"No matter what the experience is, bless it." Buddy Ebsen heard that quote on a religious broadcast over his car radio the other day, and he confirms it as his philosophy. Buddy has had plenty of ups and downs in his 27-year show business career, and now he blesses the lessons he learned in his low periods.

He can afford to. His career is at its peak. He became a well-known figure in most American households as Davy Crockett's sidekick Georgie Russell. He'll soon be seen in another Walt Disney story, "Corky and White Shadow," to be serialized on the Mickey Mouse Club. At present he's doing a dramatic role in a war movie, "Fragile Fox."

Between rehearsals, he recalled days when he wasn't doing as well.

"I was out of pictures for five years," said Buddy, who started in films 20 years ago dancing with his sister Vilma. "I was a year in 'Good Night Ladies,' which set records for long runs in Chicago. Then I was in the service for three years. After that, I toured in the revival of 'Show Boat' for a year."

He came back to Hollywood to try his luck at pictures again. But his agent always met this inquiry from producers: "Why hasn't he been working in pictures?" The agent told about Buddy's five-year stretch, but the question was repeated: "Why hasn't he been working in pictures?"

Said Buddy: "They figured something must have been wrong. If anybody is out of pictures that long, they suspect there is a reason."

At one point a top executive advised Buddy to find another line of work. But at this low period in his career he was fighting mad and wouldn't consider it.

He managed to support his wife and daughters (he now has five) with occasional vaudeville, night clubs and TV. Then he landed a plum role in "Night People" with Gregory Peck.

"I got great reviews," he said. "It was a complete departure for me to do a dramatic role, and I thought it would make me a whole new career. So what happened? I didn't work for a year."

That was the lowest point in his history. He seriously considered ending his career as a performer. Shortly afterward, his agent landed him a job in a John Steinbeck play on Omnibus. Director Norman Foster saw it, tabbed him as a prospect for Davy Crockett. But Walt Disney found a young Texan named Fess Parker. While Buddy was on a dancing date in Florida, he got a proposal for him to play Davy's pal.

The rest is familiar history.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Change In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The building which housed Eva Peron's social aid foundation is to be used for college classrooms.

Educational Minister Arturo Dell'Oro Maini announced the former Eva Peron Foundation headquarters in downtown Buenos Aires will be turned over to the science and architecture schools of Argentina's university system. He said present facilities for those schools are crowded.

Eva Peron, wife of Dictator

Juan Peron, created the foundation to help the needy. This in turn had political advantages for her husband. Forced contributions fed the foundation. Eva Peron died July 26, 1952. Juan Peron was overthrown last September. The revolutionary government has taken over the foundation.

Under American law, the privileges and immunities of an ambassador extend to the members of his own and of his official household.

Radar Expert Addresses Optimists

Albert Wuelfing, technical representative for Western Electric at Whiteman Air Force Base, was the speaker Tuesday noon at Optimist Club meeting held at Bothwell Hotel, talking on the subject of "Radar and Guided Missiles."
Born in Germany, Wuelfing has spent most of his life in New Jersey and for the past 15 years has been working in radar.
Radar, he said, has been made to do many useful things and was discovered by accident. A ham operator was having trouble with his reception and found that a zeppelin was going overhead, causing the waves to be jumbled up.
The speaker pointed out that radar is related to radio but while radio is transmitted one place and received another, radar is transmitted and received in the same place. The technique of radar, he said, is on a time basis.
Wuelfing, with the aid of a blackboard explained how radar works, how the beams are carried, the distance, and the timing. He told, too, how radar had been put to use both in civilian life and in military plans.
Citing history, the speaker said, is the only way to tell the progress of radar. The system in 1940-45 was 200 microcycles, 16 tubes, 18 per cent efficiency and the range 20 miles at most. Three viewing scopes were needed. In 1950-56 it is 10,000 microcycles, one tube, 75 per cent efficient and 200 mile-range all on one scope.
Wuelfing told briefly of guided missiles and the part they are playing in the military plan and in outer space study. The guided missile, he said, has grown from a scientific toy to an important weapon.
The speaker was introduced by Dr. Chester Kirkpatrick, program chairman for the day.
The meeting was presided over by Charles Hurr, president, with invocation by the Rev. J. W. Watts.
A report was made on the trip to Kansas City Breakfast Club last Thursday, at which time the travel gavel was delivered by Charles Hurr, Milton Jones and Dr. Donald Kirby.

Double Action For the Baked Fish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
We like seeing double when it comes to baked fish. Instead of preparing one mammoth fish to serve six to eight, we stuffed two smaller species, about two pounds apiece, and found we could bake them in jig time.

If you can find pike at your fish store, do choose it for this recipe; its flavor is so delicate. But if pike is not available, choose another fish suitable for stuffing and baking.

The fish stuffing we are giving you is the moist kind — either commercial sour cream or mayonnaise is used in it. But its distinguishing note is the diced peeled lemon pulp that gives tang. We do not feel tartar sauce is necessary with this stuffed baked fish, but if your family insists on that savory accompaniment, you may want to use the following recipe.

TWIN PIKE WITH LEMON STUFFING
Ingredients: ¼ cup butter or margarine, 1 cup finely diced celery, ½ cup finely diced onion, 1 quart soft bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons grated lemon rind, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons paprika, diced membrane-free pulp from 1 large lemon, ¼ cup commercial sour cream or mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing, 2 (about 2 pounds each) pike (cleaned), extra butter (soft).

Method: Melt ¼ cup butter in a 10-inch skillet over low heat; add celery and onion; cook gently, stirring often, until vegetables are soft. Remove from heat. Add soft bread crumbs, lemon rind, salt, paprika, diced lemon and sour

Note: To make soft bread crumbs, tear a fresh slice of bread into tiny pieces with fingers or fork. Or cut bread into tiny cubes. Leave crumbs on bread or remove, as desired.

TARTAR SAUCE

Ingredients: ¼ cup mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing, 1 tablespoon minced capers, 1 tablespoon sweet pickle relish, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, ¼ teaspoon minced onion.

Method: Mix together the mayonnaise, capers, pickle relish, parsley and onion. Chill. Makes about 1 cup.

MORE FISH STORIES

We like our baked stuffed fish with the head and tail left on. But you may have one or both removed if you like.

When the whole fish is cleaned at your fish dealer's, it will be scaled and the fins will be removed. If the backbone is removed, it must be done so that the back skin of the fish is not cut through.

If you line the bottom of your baking pan with greased aluminum foil, the fish will be easy to remove to a serving platter.

A crisp tossed green salad always tastes delicious with fish. So do cucumber slices marinated in a mixture of vinegar, salt and sugar.

Want to be sure the whole fish you buy for stuffing and baking is fresh? Make sure those fishy eyes

JUST PLAIN GOOD—These cookies win votes.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

These new cookies, sampled by a couple of dozen tasters, got top rating. Everyone who ate them asked when they were going to be baked again. And we had young and old among our testers.

Just what makes them so popular? Molasses, sugar and spice contribute tempting flavor. And the texture is both crisp and chewy — rolled oats helping out here.

We found that stored in a tightly covered tin container, these cookies held up well. But chances are they'll be eaten before you have time to find out. Youngsters will go for them with a glass of milk; older folk will enjoy them with tea or coffee.

Please do try them; it's a long time since we have come on a cookie that was such an all-round favorite. We can't promise when we'll find an oatmeal-and-molasses cookie to equal them!

You'll like the easy method of mixing these cookies — all the ingredients are beaten together in one bowl.

CRISP-AND-CHEWIES

Ingredients: 1½ cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon ground cloves, ½ teaspoon ground ginger, 1 cup sugar, ¾ cup butter or margarine (soft), 1 egg, ¼ cup dark molasses, ¾ cup uncooked rolled oats (quick variety).

Method: Sift together the flour, baking soda, salt, cloves, ginger and sugar into a mixing bowl. Add soft shortening, egg and molasses. Beat until smooth—about 2 minutes. Lightly stir in rolled oats. Use a level tablespoon of the dough for each cookie; drop two inches apart (to allow for spreading) on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven eight to ten minutes. Do not overbake. Allow to stand on cookie sheets a minute or so to get firm before removing with a wide spatula. Cool on rack. When cold, store in tightly covered tin container. Makes about 3½ dozen cookies.

FEEDING THOSE YOUNGSTERS

Cookies aren't the only food that appeals to all ages. We were glad to see this fact stressed in the recently published "Feeding Your Baby and Child" by Benjamin Spock, M.D., and Miriam E. Lowenberg, Ph.D. (Duell, Sloan and Pearce, New York; Little, Brown and Company, Boston). As proof of it, Dr. Lowenberg includes whole-family recipes a mother can try when a youngster has gone through the baby-food stage. The advantage of this system are obvious: when both Father and Toddler can eat Indian Pudding, Beef Stew or Salmon Loaf, meal-getting is simplified. Dr. Spock's collabor-

Sedalia Has Bond Issue, Too

While considerable attention is being given the $75,000,000 bond amendment election January 24 for Missouri eleemosynary, penal and higher education institutions, Sedalians should remember they have corresponding responsibility toward consideration of a local matter—the $1,800,000 bond issue to provide more adequate and desirable plant facilities for current and future needs of the Sedalia Public Schools.

February 7 is the date for a vote on the local school bond issue.

Those who deal intimately with the realities of school administration have compiled abundant information that from time to time will be disseminated before February 7 to familiarize the public with the situation in Sedalia which has been given careful analysis by the Sedalia Board of Education and also Dr. George E. Englehart, school building services, State Department of Education.

Some may say the need for Sedalia school expansion is not yet here. That is the same sort of thinking Missourians gave toward the plight of eleemosynary, penal and educational institutions. Because of procrastination our state now is feeling the impact of disgraceful neglect.

National, state and local population statistics and trends and their percentages may be boring but in arriving at basic conclusions they are factors which cannot be dodged. It is not happenstance they figure prominently in arriving at a solution to Sedalia's school problems. Any determination is influenced by the present and possible future numbers of pupils that must be housed. Also the present and probable future place of residence of pupils within the district must be considered in view of the fact that Sedalia is confronted with shifts in business and residential areas one scarcely dreamed of 20 years ago.

Some interesting figures are provided in the Kiplinger Washington Letter. In brevity they tell the story to which every community contributes its individual paragraphs:

By 1960, four years from now, a new wave of marriages resulting from the boom in births in the 40's will occur; about 2,000,000 a year. Retailers should be interested in this too.

Currently the baby boom continues; over four million were born during 1955. That means 25 new babies for every 1,000 population.

It is now "the style" to have more babies, bigger families. Younger mothers are having more second, third, fourth and even fifth children than before. Younger women, both city and farm, now have more children and PLAN ON MORE.

The population of the United States has reached 167 million. In five years it should be 178 millions and in ten years, 190 million. By 1975, there will be more than 221 million people in America.

Ten years from now 23% more children will be entering elementary schools than today, 55% more in high schools. We will need some 600,000 more classrooms to accommodate them—a jump of about 60%, according to the Kiplinger Letter.

We'll also need 200,000 more teachers every year for ten years to cover school growth and to replace those who quit or retire.

Does anyone think these trends will occur everywhere in the United States except Sedalia? Our community is in for it whether we dislike the school expansion idea or not. To prepare for it there is no sense in putting off longer because enrollment increases and other demands for school facilities will be creeping along even while building construction is underway during the next three years if we pass the bond issue now.

School officials have estimated cost of the $1,800,000 bond issue will approximate 30 cents on the hundred valuation. That's not much more than it costs to buy a package of cigarettes a week, every week, every year about the same amount a taxpayer would have to pay on property assessed at $5,000. One cup of coffee less per day would pay the additional tax.

Surely no great sacrifice is demanded of the Sedalia taxpayers to go to the polls February 7 and vote for a bond issue which will accelerate the movement forward of a long due school building improvement program.

Drew Pearson Says—

Dulles Not Alone to Blame for Boo-Boos

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — To understand how John Foster Dulles can be the author of "How to Make Enemies and Alienate Allies," as now generally conceded, you have to understand how he works and some of the men around him.

The man immediately around him who has had more to do with the recent Dulles boo-boos than anyone else is Carl McCordle, assistant secretary of state in charge of public relations.

Mr. McCordle is a St. Bernard type of individual with the likable qualities of that dog plus its ability to knock over furniture and muddy up the front carpet. He operates on the general policy of "give a little here," then "give a little there" in an effort to keep every newspaper happy. The result, nobody is happy.

Thus when McCordle slipped the New York Times one of the great scoops in recent State Department history, the full text of the Yalta Conference papers, he later felt he had to do a favor for Life Magazine by giving an exclusive interview to Jim Shepley, its Washington bureau chief.

Result: While the Yalta papers made a lot of people sore — except the New York Times — the Life Magazine article has made everyone raging mad — except Life Magazine.

Father and Son

McCordle met Foster Dulles when he was working for the Philadelphia Bulletin, and Foster was making a world tour during the Truman administration. On these long, sometimes lonesome hops from Singapore to Bandung, Calcutta to Cairo there developed a sort of father-and-son relationship between the two men. So when he became Secretary of State Carl McCordle was wrapped close to the Dulles bosom as adviser on press and public relations.

Sole responsibility for the Dulles boo-boos should not be placed at the doorstep of Carl McCordle, however. There are at least two other important factors:

No. 1 is the Dulles habit of operating his office out of his own hat.

No. 2 is John Foster Dulles himself, plus his over indulgent aptitude for making boo-boos, even before he got into the State Department.

That record is too long to detail here. But when a man supposedly skilled in foreign affairs, whose grandfather was Secretary of State and whose uncle was Secretary of State, can predict no war with the Nazis at a time when Hitler was already engulfing part of Europe, then you can really expect much long-range planning on other subjects.

Hitler Is No Problem

This particular Dulles statement was made in March 1939 after Hitler had already swallowed Austria and Czechoslovakia and obviously had his eyes on the rest of Europe.

"There is no reason to believe that any totalitarian states, separately or collectively, would attempt to attack the United States or could do so successfully," said Mr. Dulles. "Only hysteria entertains the idea that Germany, Italy or Japan contemplates war upon us."

A quick look at John Foster's public utterances shows that he wandered all over the lot on various questions long before Carl McCordle came into his life. There was another article in Life Magazine, for instance, June 3, 1946 in which Mr. Dulles described the Russians: "In some matters the Soviet system is tolerant. . . . Men have considerable freedom to disagree and argue."

And there have been a whole slew of conflicting statements about Korea and Indo-China.

"President Truman's decision that the U. S. should go to the defense of the Korean Republic was courageous, righteous and in the national interest," said Mr. Dulles, again writing in Life June 12, 1952.

But one month later he wrote into the Republican National platform an accusation that Truman "plunged us into war in Korea without the consent of our citizens."

So Carl McCordle can't be blamed for the Dulles avidity for statement-making on every subject and on all sides of every subject.

However, it's the job of a good press relations officer to prevent his chief from making apple-cart-upsetting statements. This is also the job of other executives around him.

Out of Dulles' Hat

And here enters the other characteristic in Foster's life which makes him one of the most mercurial Secretaries of State we have ever had.

Dulles operates his office out of his own hat. Wherever his brief case is, that's his office. And there the policy of the State Department and the U. S. government is frequently made.

It makes no matter how many highly paid experts the State Department has to advise on India, Portugal, Indo-China — they are usually not called in. When Dulles issued his now famed boo-boo on Portuguese Goa which so offended the Indians, not one expert regarding the area involved knew he was going to make it.

Past Secretaries of State met almost every day with their top experts. They had a team. It not only reviewed the current problems of the world, but planned ahead. Weeks and weeks of study was given to policy.

For the past three years that system has virtually gone up in smoke. One reason is the temperamental Dulles tendency to shoot statements from the hip without consulting advisers. Another is the fact that he is seldom in Washington.

The public has been given the impression that John Foster Dulles is a great Secretary of State because he is constantly bustling off to this part of the world or that. However, activity is not necessarily the hallmark of statesmanship, and the business executive who spends his time on the road as a traveling salesman eventually finds his business at home going to pot. So he hires traveling salesmen and stays at home to do the planning.

Dulles might well use his own traveling salesmen — the long list of reasonably able ambassadors we have stationed all over the world. As one of his law partners once said, after Dulles had left Sullivan and Cromwell to come to the State Department:

"Why doesn't Foster sit down for a moment and just think?"

Can This Be the Same Person?

The World Today—

Huey's Death Did Not End Long Reign

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political dynasty set in motion 28 years ago by Louisiana's Sen. Huey P. Long is still formidable instead of fading when he was shot to death in 1935.

This week Huey's brother Earl, 60, was re-elected governor of the State. Huey's son Russell, 37, is a U.S. senator from Louisiana. Huey's other brother George, 72, is a congressman from Louisiana.

After Huey was assassinated 21 years ago at Baton Rouge, his political heirs ran Earl for lieutenant governor on their ticket. They needed the magic of the Long name.

He became governor in 1939 when Gov. Richard Leche, caught up in the Louisiana scandals, resigned. Leche later went to the penitentiary. None of the scandals touched Earl. But when he ran for a full term in 1946 he lost.

He won in 1948, served until his term was up in 1952, and, because a Louisiana governor can't succeed himself, had to wait until now to try again. Russell won a Senate seat in a special election in 1948 for an unexpired two-year term, won a full six-year term in 1950, and this year must face the voters again.

George was elected to Congress in 1952 at the age of 68. He won re-election in 1954 for a term expiring this year.

Huey's political control of the state hasn't been matched by any of his family, nor has any of them come close to matching his national prominence. But none of them has tried to be another Huey.

Huey was daring, ruthless, a rabble-rouser, and brilliant in his particular kind of way. His energy was endless, like his ambition. He had fantastic power in the state. He hungered for more. His minimum goal was the White House. "It is no mystery how he made his name political magic. He did many things for the people in a state which was so shabby and backward when he was elected governor in 1928.

Russell Long looks like his father but isn't in most ways. Huey was feared in the Senate and was himself afraid. He walked surrounded by bodyguards. Russell is liked in the Senate and acts as if he wants to be liked. He doesn't make much noise.

Huey was an enemy of President Roosevelt. His son is pretty much a political conformist. Rep. George Long doesn't try to be a heavy-weight.

Earl has most of Huey's old fire but apparently only a small part of his ambition. He has seemed content with being governor.

Like Huey, Earl talks in terms of poor people. A record number of Negroes, 154,000, registered to vote in this election. Mrs. Margaret Dixon, managing editor of the Baton Rouge Advocate, told this writer Long got the Negro vote.

Why? Long and his four opponents all came out for segregation. But Long, in his 1948-52 term as governor, got old age assistance raised and equalized the pay of white and Negro schoolteachers. Earl may not try as hard as some other Southern governors to frustrate the Supreme Court's ruling against segregation in public schools.

Dr. Jordan Says—

Iritis Often Disappears With Proper Treatment

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Mrs. A. J. asks for a discussion of iritis, particularly its possible causes and treatment. Certainly this serious eye disease deserves attention.

It almost always causes pain, watering of the eyes, sensitivity to bright light. If it goes on too long it can lead to poor vision or even loss of sight in the involved eye.

If iritis begins suddenly the symptoms are likely to be worse than in the chronic variety, but recovery usually comes more rapidly, perhaps in a few weeks. The pain is likely to be severe, and worse at night. Touching or pressing the eyeball is very painful.

Iritis is sometimes associated with rheumatism, diabetes, tuberculosis, syphilis or injury. It is most important that the cause of the iritis be discovered whenever possible.

The disease producing the inflammation of the iris must be treated as well as the eye itself. The search for infection elsewhere in the body must be carried out painstakingly and thoroughly. But sometimes no cause whatever can be found.

When proper treatment is begun early, the iritis often clears up completely, but complications and the possibility of chronic inflammation are dangerous possibilities.

The eye itself requires highly skilled treatment, including the use of drugs, heat applied locally, rest and protection from light. Sometimes a method called foreign protein therapy has been found helpful in iritis.

This consists in injecting some protein substances (boiled milk is an example) which produces a reaction in the body, usually with fever. This seems to stimulate resistance and often has a favorable effect on the iritis.

As in most other inflammatory diseases of the eye (but not such things as cataracts, simple glaucoma, and the like) ACTH or cortisone are often useful.

When anything goes wrong with the eyes, diagnosis and treatment should be prompt, as the risk of permanent damage to these vital organs is great.

It is not possible for a patient to tell what kind of eye trouble he has from the symptoms alone. Therefore, nothing should stand in the way of seeking expert advice promptly.

Supplies Available

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—A couple of young girls, on a scavenger hunt, needed a cigar stub.

They rang doorbells in the neighborhood. One man was eager to help but a search of the house disclosed no cigar stub. He offered to smoke a fresh cigar down to a stub.

"Got lots of cigars," he explained. "Wife had a baby this morning."

As Sedalia Sees It—

Diplomatic Flexibility Makes Russia More Formidable

By JOSEPH A. DEAR

The Democrat-Capital

Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Situations of strength have been attained but productive negotiations with the Russians still seem impossible.

This suggests a miscalculation of foreign policy planners under the previous Democratic Administration—the phrase "situations of strength" was the invention of Dean Acheson.

But the miscalculation was not apparent to Republican chieftains before the recent conference of foreign ministers at Geneva. So little was accomplished there that the conference was generally considered a flop.

The accepted theory here has been that the possibility of productive negotiations with the Russians would increase as the strength of the Western Alliance increased. Now that theory is collapsing.

The strength of the Free World has grown tremendously. Europe is no longer defenseless. Our military forces are more powerful. There have even been an improvement in Asia.

It is true, of course, that it would have been desirable to accomplish more. And there are dark spots. But on the whole, American economic and military aid programs have paid off. Except they have not led to fruitful bargaining with Russia.

For several reasons. The alliance we have underwritten is of Byzantine complexity. Member nations pull in opposite directions and quarrels between them are not uncommon. The whole show threatens to fly apart. So we are finding it necessary to run very fast to stay just where we are. And that would be the case even if the Russians did nothing.

But they have re-entered the diplomatic arena. As has been argued in this space in the past, the death of Stalin was a mixed blessing for us. While he lived, Russian diplomacy was heavy handed and ineffective. He bungled by blustering.

Russian diplomacy has become more flexible since his death. Russia is therefore more formidable.

This simply means that maintaining the strength we have built up is going to cost us yet more $$$$. The huge dam that "Egypt" will build on the Nile is a case in point. For two years, this project was pigeon-holed by the International Bank and our State Department.

Then Russia got into the foreign aid racket. And presto, the United States gave Egypt millions for the dam. And it will cost more millions next year. It is possible other nations will attempt to "blackmail" us by threatening to accept Russian aid.

Secretary of State Dulles is aware of the danger, and at his last press conference said we were not going to be "taken in" by "paper offers" the Soviets make to underdeveloped nations. But even this reassurance is ominous, for the implication is that we will cough up if the Soviet offer is sincere.

His Friendship With the Big Rhinoceros Is Not Mutual One

By KENNETH GILMORE
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Lee Merriam Talbot is doing all he can to prevent the rhinoceros from becoming extinct. The ungrateful beasts, however, are doing their best to eliminate themselves forever.

Once again this 25-year-old adventurer is off to protect the ugly rhino and dodge his deadly horns.

He's going to East Africa at the head of an expedition to determine how many rhinos and other rare animals in the region are disappearing due to the intrusions of man.

Oriental superstitions are one cause for the rhino's decline. It's believed that all parts of the rhino's body have magical powers. The going price on one horn is $2,400 in the Orient.

An ecologist from Berkeley, Calif., Talbot works for the International Union for the Protection of Nature. It's an organization concerned about the threatened elimination of certain animal species. Ecology is the branch of zoology dealing with mutual relations among organisms and between them and their environment.

Talbot is somewhat of an expert on rhinos. During a recent six-month trip through 30 countries in Asia and the Middle East he had a number of opportunities to get to know them well. That's fine if you like to be on familiar terms with a nasty-tempered animal built on the order of a tank and armed with one or two handy horns.

Yet Talbot never carries a gun. "Animals won't bother me as long as I keep in my place," he said while in Washington before departing for Africa.

"It has worked so far," he added.

Luckily, he can keep his head. Once he was caught between two rhinos who thrashed about in the mud trying to find him. It was at dusk and the weak-eyed animals couldn't see him. When they gave up and left he was covered with mud they had splattered on him.

Another time an enraged rhino charged Talbot while he was taking a picture from the top of an elephant. The elephant beat a fast retreat with the rhino close behind. Half a mile later the rhino pulled alongside and took a healthy bite out of the elephant's side, then left satisfied.

"I was a little too busy staying in the rumble seat to get any pictures," apologized Talbot.

GI Policyholders Required to Notify For Payment Change

Only eligible GI insurance policyholders who wish to change the method of payment for the regular annual 1956 dividend are required to notify Veterans Administration of the payment method desired. W. F. Fidler of the local VA Office said today.

Those who wish to receive their 1956 dividend in the same manner as in the past are not required to notify VA of that fact because their previous payment method will be applied automatically. If a change in the method of payment is desired, the necessary form to be filed can be secured at the VA office, 208 South Lamine.

Cheap Feed Not Always A Good Thing

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Reporter.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—Cheap livestock feed may be to the livestock farmer what candy is to a child. But developments of the past year show clearly that it is not always good for him.

Certainly this was recognized in the special message President Eisenhower sent to Congress last Monday recommending improvements in federal farm-aid programs.

It is a fact, too, that's likely to play a major role in the forthcoming campaign for votes in the politically important Midwestern and Western hog and cattle areas.

Livestock farmers are in greater economic trouble than any other group. Prices of hogs and cattle have dipped sharply during the past 15 months, carrying incomes of their producers to lowest levels of the postwar period.

The situation has brought numerous demands for more aggressive action to bolster hog and cattle prices. So far, the government has done little beyond buying a small quantity of pork products for the school lunch program.

Hogs brought producers a national average of $10.60 a hundred pounds last month. A year earlier the average was $17. This was a decline of almost 40 per cent.

Two years ago the hog price average was $23. Thus, in a two-year span, prices dropped about 54 per cent.

Beef cattle prices averaged $13.50 a hundred pounds in December compared with $15.20 a year earlier. This was a loss of about 12 per cent.

The major factor in the price drop was a sharp increase in the production of meat animals, particularly hogs.

Late in 1954, when farmers started breeding plans for 1955 crop hogs, it looked like a profitable thing for regular hog producers to breed more sows and for many other farmers to go into the hog business. At the time, many dairy farmers shifted from cows to hogs because hog prices were much more favorable than milk prices.

Hogs looked good because prices were relatively high, particularly in comparison with feed prices. At the then prevailing prices, a farmer could make more money by feeding his corn and other feed grains to hogs than he could by selling the grain or storing it under government price supports.

Furthermore, there was a growing supply of feed grains. Government farm policies in 1954 operated to provide "cheap feed." Millions of acres of land taken out of the production of such surplus crops as cotton and wheat under rigid control programs were diverted to the production of feed grains — corn, oats, rye, barley and grain sorghums.

The government inaugurated a program at one time to prevent such diversion of acreage, but later withdrew it.

Largely because of this extra acreage, the production of livestock feed grains during the past two years has been large enough to lift total supplies to a record level. The feed grain acreage last year was 12 per cent larger than

Busy Beavers Meet

The Busy Beavers 4-H Club met Jan. 9 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cole. Joyce Rainey gave a report on the district council meeting and plans were discussed for projects.

Robert Herring and Linda Files became new members. There were 13 members present.

The next meeting will be Feb. 13 at 7:30 at the home of T. M. Hardin.

1953 and 9 per cent above the 1949-53 average.

Thus, encouraged by the favorable hog prices and abundant supplies of low-priced feeds, farmers produced 10 per cent more hogs last year. As these reached butcher weights and started moving to market, prices began to go down, finally dropping about 40 per cent in less than a year's time.

The result was a loss for many farmers. Some did not get enough to pay for their feed. Others who produced their own grains would have been better off financially if they had unloaded the feed onto the government under price support guarantees.

Remembering that in the past there often has been a close relation between hog prices at election time and how midwestern farmers vote, Democrats are preparing to make a big issue of what they call the GOP administration's "cheap feed" policies — policies which they say misled farmers into producing too many meat animals for their own economic good.

Undoubtedly with this criticism in mind, Eisenhower told Congress in his farm message that there is need to cut down on crop production, including feed grains, under a soil bank proposal. Payments would be made — both in cash and in surplus commodities — to farmers who reduced plantings.

"Establishment of the soil bank," he said, "will alleviate the undue stimulus to livestock production and the resulting downward pressure on livestock prices which arise from using for feed-grain production much of the acreage al-

Happy Helpers Meet

The Hughesville Happy Helpers 4-H club met Jan. 9 at the Hughesville cafeteria. The secretary read the December minutes. The leader said the group should give at least three demonstrations a month. The club discussed how much should be contributed to the March of Dimes and gave $3.00. Roll call was answered by 24 members with the reason why each joined.

The next meeting, a Valentine party, will be Feb. 13 at the cafeteria.
